Gold Pours In

Playing Three Eights

By Arthur Brisbane

NEW YORK, June 14.—After Communism, the gold meant happiness, we might be rich and happy in spite of everything, by and by. Mr. Harding's administration cut one billion seven hundred million dollars from national expenses of 1921 as compared with 1920. On Monday there came in another large gold shipment, three and a half millions, biggest single lot ever received. It comes from Sweden, and may be Russian gold, stamped in the Swedish mint, to make it acceptable to our refined sense of ethics.

We refuse Russian gold on the ground that it might be stolen from the czar, as though all czar's gold has not been stolen from some one.

With the world's gold gradually accumulating here and other nations hungry for it, this would be a good time for Europe to do away with the gold standard or at least establish silver at some low ratio. But Mr. Bryan, who usually looks after silver, is too busy with Darwin and the monkey. And to make nations abandon the gold standard would be as hard as making them all change religion.

This country is shutting out immigration, refusing to admit men and women of the kind that have built up the United States during years past. During nine months under the new law, 624,475 and departures 611,533. The increase was only 12,939.

With millions of acres uncultivated, room for hundreds of millions more, this country shuts out the only real wealth, human intelligence and ambition.

The ignorant say that bigger population would mean lower wages. But when the nation's population was less than four millions, wages averaged less than fifty cents a day.

About 551 years before Christ, the Chinese, huge Chinese soldiers with nine daughters, but no son, married a young man, his wife, and found in his garden a precious stone. On it was written:

"A son is about to be born, pure as the crystal sea. He shall be a king, but without any domain."

Xi-Lia, supernatural being, had let the message. Sure enough, Confucius was born, and now 2575 years later, the Chinese are quarreling about the care of his grave. The guardian of the tomb was money for the descendants from the estate of the twenty-second Duke Kang, who is the seventy-seventh direct descendant of Confucius living in a city peopled almost entirely by descendants of the great philosopher.

That is an interesting point. Seventy-seven generations take you back to 551 B. C. Five times as many generations take you to the neolithic period, late stone age.

It is a young man's race. What will it accomplish after two or three millions of generations?

Edison now asks young men hunting jobs this question among others: "How would you play three eights against a pat hand?" You could study Chinese for answers. One answer would be: "The same as I would play cards." Another, "not at all. I believed a pat hand out against me."

The wise man would not quit Edison. HE, by the way, thirty-eight years ago used to play three eights as though they were four kings.

Not all victims of the Lusitania are yet dead. The others—many fish—will die in a few days when divers extract quantities of nitro-glycerine on the deck of the sunken ship. After blasting and cutting through three decks the divers will find five millions in gold in the Lusitania strong room, also $1,000,000 in jewels and gold in the gun safe. The divers will wear shafts of steel to keep the water's weight from crushing them—working 275 feet down.

We do not understand the wonders around us, living, as we do, at the bottom of our air coats—and what we don't understand we often fear. The sea creatures are strange, steel-cased creatures down there, faster something to see ship, then go away, then electric current from above explode the dynamite, blow up the ship and kill the fish. The oldest, wisest fish, if he escaped, would say, "don't talk any more about thinking, superior beings coming down here and creating here that racket. I've been in this ocean, minnow and fish, more than 100 years and know that's just an accident."

Once more observe that the divers will bring up only jewels and gold. Nothing else. No money. No fish interests, not any document left to tell the story, not the complete skeletons that may be found lying in their berths where they will stay for weeks. Only GOLD. For that, men go to the bottom of the sea and to the tops of mountains.

Board Head Says Craft Must Be Met to Meet the Foreign Competition

The Boston American reveals today the amazing fact that American moonshine whiskey is being sold to passengers by United States Shipping Board vessels.

The whiskey is peddled over the bar.

The only difference between sale now and before the Volstead act is that passengers get their moonshine after the vessels leave the three-mile limit.

Moonshine is openly advertised on the menu of the Ship Board liners. It sells for 30 cents a drink.

On the list of wines under the heading of "Spirits and Liquors," appears this:

"Old American Rye Moonshine per drink 25 cents."

This fact is revealed following the publishing of the statement of Chairman Lusk of the United States Shipping Board that "neither the Volstead act nor the eighteenth amendment apply to American ships outside the three-mile limit."

LETTER TO BUNCH
Mr. Lusk's opinion was contained in a letter to Adolphus A. Bunch, Jr., following a communication from Mr. Bunch, member of the St. Louis family of brewers, to President Harding, charging that alcohol in drinks were regularly served on Shipping Board vessels at sea.

Charges are made by Mr. Bunch that Chairman Lusk went to President Harding when the sale of intoxicants on American vessels was about to be investigated and told him: "Turn over."

MAINE AND BAY STATE SETTLE TRUCK FEES
An agreement by which Massachusetts auto trucks will escape the payment for registry in Maine was today being effected by officials of the two States. Bay State trucks now using Maine highways are required to pay the Maine fee. This State recently retaliated by putting the Bay State fees on to the Maine trucks that come into this State.

WIFE SLAYER ELISHA IS FREED AGAIN

James F. Elisha, the Roxbury negro who served 16 years in State Prison for the murder of his white wife and who recently was released after he was alleged to have assaulted a white man, was today released from prison again by order of the Governor's Council, which found that the circumstances surrounding the alleged assault did not justify his recommitment to serve the remainder of the life term.

SAV'S U. S. AND GERMAN THREATEN BRITISH TRAFFIC
London, June 14.—The combined competition of the United States and Germany is clouding the economic future of Great Britain, declared James W. Gerard, former American ambassador to Germany, in an interview today. He continued: "The new American tariff law coupled with the shipping law is bound to affect British commerce in America."

SHIPPING BOARD CRAFT TO CONTINUE LITIGATION, SAYS ASKER

COMPETITION OF FOREIGN VESSELS IS FEARED

him that the sale of liquor on board the American ships would help to solve the Shipping Board's financial problems.

"The President, he charges, replied, 'Mr. Asker, you are chairman of the Shipping Board; you know what to do.'"

"The Shipping Board has permitted and will continue to permit the serving of liquor on its ships," was the statement continued in Mr. Asker's letter to Asker. He stated that the custom was approved both from "the standpoint of local rights and security of our national merchant marine."

WLANSH OF OPINION.
"Prohibition afloat," was the title Mr. Asker gave to a pamphlet he issued in Washington. Prohibition Commissioner Hayes referring to it said that he would not in a violent manner to enforce the law, as soon as the Department of Justice and the courts have determined whether the Volstead act applies to vessels sailing under the American flag.

"It will not break one law to go to sea," he said.
Interior Revenue Commissioner Phillips declared today in Washington that the question of the sale of liquor on American ships had never been referred to him for decision. He said a decision handed down by the International Revenue Commission in 1919 was based on an opinion by the then acting Attorney General William L. Price, and that the law did apply to vessels flying the American flag.

That morning message in this country were being sold openly as moonshine was subject of officials said. They were arrested at the announcement that the Boston American, Mr. Asker in his letter to Mr. Phillips it was true that an assistant Attorney-General in the prior administration held that the prohibition laws are effective on American ships wherever operated, the present general counsel of the shipping board, his two assistants and the chairman himself were convinced that such an opinion was not soundly based, and had appeared under the board's supervision for use, however, only beyond the jurisdictional coastal line.

Threats Dry as Gallivan Reads Wine List

Washington, June 14.—The House of Representatives heard a transcript from Representative James A. Gallivan of Boston that made Burton Holmes staff seem tame by comparison. It had to do with traveling—anywhere on the U. S. shipping board's steamship President Pierce. Instead of exhibiting an itinerary, Representative Gallivan submitted the steamship's wine list. When he got through reading the following items there wasn't a dry eye, but many a dry throat among the assembled legislators:

SANBORN'S BRIDE AND GROOM DISAPPEAR SUDDENLY

CAUSE OF AUNT DEFENDED BY "HITCHY KOO" GIRL

NEWLY-WEDS SEPARATED ON ACCOUNT OF MONTGOMERY'S ATTENTION TO NICE

Boston society hummed with excitement when it became known that pretty Elsie Sanborn, wife of the son of the Boston multi-millionaire coffee king, and her favorite uncle, W. Robert Montgomery, had disappeared simultaneously from their hotel in Boston. It was because he tired of her, he believed was the influence of his uncle on his young wife that "his" Sanborn left his wife. Mr. Montgomery, it is said, had lived with his niece at the Hotel Brunswick for some time prior to the Sanborn marriage. He is given credit to arranging the match and awarding his niece in choosing her troupe. The very courtesy of the first foot in the social apartment.

WANTED NICE NEAR HIM
Following the honeymoon the couple resided at the Buckminster place. Mr. Montgomery desired to have his niece near him. Soon the husband became tired of the uncle's nearness and the separation followed.

Friends of the couple were startled at the news of the separation. They say they are surprised at leaving both the young wife and her uncle, the well-known Boston club man, have both left their home leaving no forwarding address.

The pair's troubles were preceded by a rift that appeared in the romance even before their wedding. Mrs. March, according to statements made by Miss Ruth Klemmer of Cambridge, a friend of Elsie Sanborn, said that she was asked to serve as bridesmaid during the fact that she had never met the bride before, and said that before the wedding rumors of a quarrel between the bride and groom were known. The bride's friends refused to serve as bridesmaids. Neither of the Miss Montgomerys was at the wedding, and she was given away by her wealthy uncle, W. Robert Montgomery, who also purchased her trousseau for her.

GIRL'S SLAYER A SON OF LADY DE FREYNE

British society was shocked to the core when it was learned that Donald Freyne, a convicted murderer, was the son of Lady Anne de Freyne. Young Freyne was born in 1881, and his birth was fully recorded by the mother forty days later. The girl gave her name on the certificate as "Anne de Freyne." In 1905 she was married to Arthur Reginald French, who later became Baron de Freyne.

WARD PROBERS FILED IN SUIT ON BLACKMAIL

White Plains, N. Y., June 14.—Mortimer Westchester County authorities to uncover the mysterious blackmail threat, which Walter S. Ward said led to the meeting at which he killed Charles Peters in Haverhill, Mass., May 16, apparently again were blocked today.

This became known after Ralph D. Ward, who yesterday was threatened with jail for contempt of court, after he refused to reveal his knowledge of the blackmail plot to the grand jury.

It was reported that District Attorney Weeks, after a conference with Supreme Court Justice McKenna, had decided contempt proceedings could not be brought, because Ralph was not present when his brother disclosed the blackmail threat with his father, and hence his evidence would be only hearsay.

RAIDERS SEIZE TRUCKS OF COAL

By Associated Press
Terre Haute, Ind., June 14.—A mob of about 400 left here today in automobiles after announcing their intention of closing every coal mine in the area. They entered the town where Brunen had been killed, and were arrested by a charge of buckshot fired from outside. Then, the detective declared, Powell, who waited outside and before Brunen's widow's holding at the hotel, was completely restored him from the breakdown he suffered soon after his arrest. Parker believed in automobile rides and fishing trips. They were together almost constantly, never missing the Brunen murder, until one day Parker drove Powell over the route he had taken after the slaying.

RESCUE WOMEN IN SOMERVILLE 2-ALARM FIRE

A two-alarm fire early today destroyed the third floor and the roof of the building at No. 19 Newbury street, West Somerville, and water did considerable damage to two lower floors, the damage being estimated at close to $12,000 by Fire Chief Rich.

The building is occupied on the first floor by the Richardson Ellis Laundry, on the second by the Johnson Bookbindery, and on the third, where the fire started, by the Gas-Face Bag Company.

The flames had worked their way through the roof when discovered by the light of the fire and notified her father, James C. Collins, who rushed to box 423 and rounded the alarm. He then went to the house at Nos. 15 and 17 Newbury street, and roused Everett E. MacMillan and his family. Mrs. MacMillan and baby Constance and Edwin MacMillan, two years old, were led to the street, and Mrs. Elizabeth Cleveland, also a resident in the house, had to be carried out by Mr. Collins.

Tenants in other houses in the district were preparing to leave the homes during the height of the fire. The cause of the blaze is unknown.

In the Johnson Bookbindery, the yearbooks of the Massachusetts School graduating class were being bound for delivery today, and a score of the students gathered at the fire, lamenting the fact that water and smoke practically ruined the completed books.

CROWD BATTLES POLICEMAN AND PRISONERS

Charged with drunkenness, assaulting a police officer, resisting arrest, and attempting to rescue a prisoner, Timothy Harndy of Hill side street, was arrested by a crowd of young men on Huntington avenue.

George F. Coughlin of Franklin is at the City Hospital as the result of injuries sustained in the melee. In which Patrolman Vadenbrouwer drew both club and gun to stand off the crowd, which hurled a shower of missiles at him and his prisoners.

When released from the hospital he will be charged with drunkenness and assaulting an officer. Coughlin is a cripple, one leg being shorter than the other.

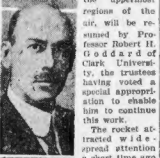

According to the police, Patrolman Vadenbrouwer, at Huntington avenue and Francis street, today found Harndy intoxicated. He was arresting Harndy when Coughlin, standing in the doorway of a nearby lunchroom, made some remarks. The officer then took Coughlin into custody.

About twenty youths went to the rescue of Coughlin and Harndy. The officer's hat was knocked off by a heavy piece of timber. Both Coughlin and Harndy are alleged to have fought the officer, who was trying to hold them and protect them from the shower of missiles hurled by the crowd.

The police admit that the officer used his club twice on his prisoners to prevent them from hitting him. The attack of the crowd grew more threatening, and the officer drew his gun. Just as the patrolman arrived Harndy broke away and ran. Another prisoner captured him.

SAYS HE ADMITS KILLING WIFE AT WASHTUB

Newport, R. I., June 14.—Mildred Rasmussen, Dorrien R. Stone of Portsmouth testified at the trial of Adolphus B. Brownell, charged with shooting his wife dead in February, as she stood at a washtub, that Brownell had admitted the murder and exclaimed that he wished he had killed himself first.

The woman took in five washings a week to support five children, the eldest fifteen years. Elizabeth Brownell, older of the children, testified that her mother complained frequently because her father would not work, saying that earning the living for the family was too much for her alone. A shoignun alleged to have been used by Brownell when he shot his wife was admitted as evidence. The shooting occurred in the cellar of the Brownell home in Newport. Defence plea will be insanity.

POSSIBLE 5-CT. FARE SEEN BY 'L' OFFICIALS

By HERT FORD

Edward Dana, general manager of the Boston Elevated Railway Company, today declared that a definite step toward reduction of fares to eight cents might have resulted if such a measure as that drafted by the Boston American had been introduced earlier in the legislative session and if all parties concerned had acted as close as they did the last few weeks of the session.

"They got so they were talking the same language toward the end of it," added Mr. Dana. "They began to look squarely at the facts and mutually appreciate the problems and the obstacles. One of the greatest advantages of the recent drive for a reduced fare, as I view it, was the realization by the car rider who is the average citizen, that no cut in fares could take place without the public sharing in the burden and that it was economically impossible to give service below cost."

5-CENT POSSIBILITY.
"The public appears to appreciate that fact now. I think an eight-cent fare would be psychological, but it cannot be brought about without relieving the Elevated Company of subway rentals, carfare and the cost of removing snow from tracks, etc."

"With such expenses as these removed an eight-cent fare might have been possible and a cut of two cents might have cheered the public. A very encouraging spirit of co-operation was shown toward the end of the recent campaign. It may be a harbinger for better things in the future."

"No, it is impossible to forecast any possibility of a flat cut in fare. I don't see how it can be done unless subway rentals and the other expenses are removed."

THAT PAYING SAVING

"But the trustees are making steady progress. The introduction of five-cent fare money throughout the city reflects how hard they are working for the public. There are many perplexing problems and ramifications which are not appreciated by the riding public."

"For example, reports in today's newspapers that the Elevated would save $1,000,000 annually in paying and profit compare now that the Act of 1917 had expired. It will do nothing of the sort. Paying expenses last year did not exceed $150,000. They have never exceeded $200,000."

"Therefore, to give out any such round figure is misleading and incorrect. Under this special act, which was passed twenty-five years ago, and which expired June 10, the Elevated road was compelled to pay for paving between its track and eighteen inches on each side."

STILL MUST PAY TAX

"The Elevated will no longer have to stand this expense as especially stipulated under the act, but it must not be forgotten that the Elevated Company will continue to bear the same paying tax which every street car system must pay under the General Laws."

"It is true that four years ago the Legislature suspended temporarily this paying tax known as a commutation tax, but it will go into effect again in another year. This calls for a tax of three per cent on gross receipts which has not readily been perceived would be a heavy expense for our road with annual gross receipts averaging $10,000,000 on a ten-cent fare basis."

NEW 5-CENT ZONES

"The road's saving under abolition of the expense of paying repairs under the special act just expired will be comparatively light, when it is remembered that the road is obliged to do much paving and street repaving on its own initiative on streets that the city may not contemplate improving."

"As matters stand now the whole of East Boston, South Boston, Charlestown and other sections are within a five-cent fare zone and new ones are being added. It was encouraging to note how patient the public was when we introduced the five-cent fare zones one after the other."

ONE-MAN CARS SUSPECTED

"Other districts did not clamor for them. The car riders appeared to appreciate that something was being slowly worked out to their advantage and they waited. With the one-man cars having the one-man cars are proving a decided advantage. True, there are some busy lines we would not think of introducing them on because they would impair efficiency, but on lines now in operation running times have been lessened and the road realizes that a man on the rear platform would be superfluous, a needless expense."

"We haven't hired new help for four years. We guarantee every man an eight-hour day. Under the system in the old days help was constantly sitting. A large per centage of substitutes had to be kept on hand. Prospect of steady employment was far less today with the result that we now have a high grade, loyal, efficient personnel."

10,000 TO LOSE JOBS IN NAVY YARDS

Washington, June 14.—Navy yards at Boston, Newport, Kittery, New York and elsewhere will be seriously affected by the naval appropriation bill just passed by the House and now before the Senate, according to a general communication sent out to all shore stations by Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., Assistant Secretary of the Navy.

The bill will probably enforce the dropping of at least ten thousand civilian employees from the payrolls of the yards and stations if it becomes a law.

Naval experts here figure that the measure will undoubtedly compel a reduction of at least 20 per cent. of the present civilian working force, and so figure show that slightly 50,000 civilians are now on the pay lists of these establishments, the number who will and the sea is estimated at approximately 10,000.

The Boston Navy Yard will be one of those most severely affected by the prospective cut in personnel; add officers at that station today, though it is at present impossible to form any definite idea of just how many will be dropped from the rolls. In his communication Colonel Roosevelt said that the department "desires that employees who cannot be retained be given as many days notice as possible" and that instead of being discharged that they be "placed on leave without pay until further notice."

Paris Flappers Are Letting Their Hair Grow

By Constantin News Service, Paris, June 14.—Every day has its day, so the poets say, and it seems that hobbled hair is not the exception. American flappers arriving in Paris are surprised to find that their French sisters have discarded the once popular style of hobbled hair.

Of course, there are still a few devotees to be found—the queer artists of the Latin Quarter, who never let their hair grow long, but as far as fashion is concerned it is as dead as a door nail. And the only trace it has left behind it is the jeweled hair net and the evening head dress.

The men are to be "placed on leave" so as to enable them to take advantage of such rights as they may have under the retirement law, should such legislation be enacted.

SHIP SUBSIDY BILL BROUGHT INTO HOUSE

Washington, June 14.—The administration's Ship Subsidy Bill was introduced in the House today by Representative Edmunds, Republican of Pennsylvania, a member of the Merchant Marine Committee.

Republican leaders were confident the bill, pushed along by President Harding's demand for definite action before the end of the session, would be passed by the House before July 1.

Frederick N. Y. June 4.—Influence of the National Grange, Pasadena, of Pasadena, with 2,000 members, will be exerted to defeat the ship subsidy bill, Sherman J. Lovell, master, announced here.

"The Grange," he stated, "believes a subsidy is wrong in principle. When a business or enterprise is subsidized it is subsidized at the expense of others. The Grange believes in a fair show and no favors. Because of this belief the entire influence of the organization will be used to defeat the measure."

FORD PERMITTED TO CUT COAL RAIL RATES

Washington, June 14.—Proposals of Henry Ford to reduce coal rates on his railroad, the Detroit, Toledo & Ironville Railroad, which originally were suspended by the Interstate Commerce Commission, were allowed to go into effect today under a final decision of the commission.

"SALLIES" STAFF BAND TO PLAY HERE FRIDAY

The first appearance in Boston of the National Staff Band of the Salvation Army will occur next Friday evening in the People's Temple.

An amusing contrast between the unusual attire of the cracked cornet and bass drums that once honored the army and the present outfit is forecast. The bandmen are also vaudeville and will act as a musical quartet in addition to their instrumental work.

UNVEIL SHAFT TO FRANCIS SCOTT KEY

By Associated Press.

Baltimore, June 14.—Francis Scott Key's memory, honored today with the unveiling of a monument to him, erected by Congress near the spot in historic Fort Mifflin over which floated the "Star Spangled Banner," immortalized in his poem, made the fact the nucleus of a throng which gathered there long before the hour fixed for the arrival of President Harding, who was to accept the memorial for the nation.

Mocking from Washington, the Presidential party was to be met at the city line by Mayor William F. Bowdler.

The hour set for the exercises to begin at the Memorial was 4 o'clock, but the President was expected to reach Fort Mifflin before that time to visit sick and disabled soldiers at the Public Health Service Hospital.

Amplifiers were established to carry the President's words to all parts of the city and the broadcasting station of the Baltimore American to the borders of Virginia, West Virginia, Delaware and Pennsylvania.

The President and Mrs. Harding will be guests of Senator and Mrs. Joseph French at dinner before starting on their return to Washington.

The Key memorial, designed by Charles B. Niehaus of New York, commands a sweeping view of the Patuxent River and the harbor. The memorial is the work of a great youth symbolizing "the spirit of music."

RICH BIGAMIST'S WIVES MEET AT HOSPITAL

New York, June 14.—Peggy Davis, "Peggy" girl, wife of Joseph Donald Patton, met Paulette Leroux, the very chorus girl wife, for the first time at Bellevue Hospital.

Paulette was in Ward 14, to which she had been transferred from the psychiatric ward. Paulette was found in the Pennsylvania Station subway, having suffered hysteria and poison. She plans to return for her home in Malden, Mass., and await her sick mother when she recovers from the effects of her self-administered poison.

PAULETTE FROM HOSPITAL

Peggy called to console Paulette, who declared to friends that Grafton's desertion had made life seem as with the living.

Hospital rules prevented Peggy from gaining admission to the ward, so she stood under the balcony, where Paulette was seated in a wheel chair.

"Peggy" called an American reporter, "this is Peggy."

"I like her very much," said Peggy. "She seems more pleasant than Ellen."

UNKNOWN DIES UNDER TRAIN IN REVERE

The body of an unidentified man was found east of the Bath House station on the Narrow Gauge railroad in Revere today. The officers say he was on the train, arriving in Revere at 1:30 o'clock and fell under the wheels in getting off. The trunk of the first car of the train was covered with blood.

The man was about twenty years old, five feet, nine inches in height, weighed 135 pounds, brown hair, smooth face and wore a Norfolk brown mixed tweed suit, black shoes and a light tweed golf cap, with a New York store trademark.

In his pocket he carried a boat-swain pipe, with the name "T. E. Seabury, U. S. N.," inscribed on it. Believing the man was attached to the United States Navy department, officials at the Charlestown Navy Yard are conducting an investigation to establish the man's identity.

A conductor on the train believed to have struck the man told the police that he felt the train hit something at the Bath House station.

Add This Beauty Pearly teeth—combat the film tonight

There is a way to prettier teeth, and millions of people have found it. It consists in removing the dingy film. You see the results everywhere—on teeth you envy, maybe. And those glistening teeth are often one's premier attraction.

This offers you a ten-day test, to show how whiter, cleaner, safer teeth may also come to you and yours.

Film clouds the teeth

Your teeth are coated with a viscous film. You can feel it with your tongue. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. It forms the basis of dingy coats. The tooth brush used in old ways does not end it, so nearly everyone has suffered from that film.

It is the film-coats that discolor, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acids. It holds the acids in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Thus most tooth troubles are now traced to film.

Now you may combat it

Dental science has long been seeking a daily film combater. Now two effective methods have been found. Able authorities have proved them by many careful tests. Leading dentists, nearly all the world over, now advise their daily use.

A new-day tooth paste has been perfected, to comply with five modern requirements. These two film-combating methods are embodied in it. This is the

Watch the changes

Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear. The mouth, left in alkaline condition, also feels refreshing. You will want these effects continued when you know how much they mean. Go get the free tube and see. Cut out the coupon now.

BETTY ALDEN'S COMMENT ON BOSTON SOCIETY North Shore Is Scene of Several Functions This Week

By BETTY ALDEN.
MISS ELIZABETH CASWELL, or "Bessie" Caswell as her friends call her, is not only one of the prettiest girls on the North Shore, but also one of the busiest.

For she is making and selling the most fetching of linen sweaters, which promise to become quite the rage on the North Shore this season. All of which goes to strengthen even more our belief in the popularity of the unadorned simplicity of the linen sweater. Miss Caswell has fitted up the playhouse on her mother's estate at Beverly Farms known as "Round Plain Farm," and it is here that the work of turning out the very attractive addition to Milady's wardrobe goes merrily on. "Round Plain Farm," by the way, is the estate which Harold B. Vanderbilt of New York has leased for the latter part of the summer, as he did last year.

All the members of the Summer colony along the North Shore have received cards which read as follows:

"Linen Sweaters made and sold in 'The Play House' Round Plain Farm, No. 140 Hart street, Beverly Farms."

"Bessie" Caswell is said to do a thriving business, and there is no reason why she should not, for besides being something new on the sartorial horizon, linen sweaters are far cooler and more comfortable than knitted ones.

THE mistle is just beginning to lift over the social horizon along the North Shore, and this week will see a number of important functions taking place. Tomorrow evening Mrs. L. Carter Penno is giving a formal dinner at her summer place known as "Ox Hill Pasture." The affair is in honor of Mrs. Penno's oldest daughter, Miss Pauline Penno, and I understand that a goodly number of young people who are not already domiciled at the Shore for the season are coming down for the event. Mrs. Penno, who has been married at numerous functions since the past winter at her residence on Beacon street, plans to have a large party play over the weekend.

Miss Katherine Lane, daughter of Mrs. Gardner M. Lane, is also having a house party over the weekend. Miss Lane who was one of the bridesmaids at the wedding last April of Miss Eleanor Abbott to Francis B. Lathrop, is to give a dinner party before Miss Penno's dinner.

Speaking of the former Eleanor Abbott's family, the latter seems to be very much interested in their children these days. No sooner had Eleanor's marriage taken place than she and her husband, Mr. Lathrop, went to Europe for two months of travel in Europe. At present Mrs. James Jackson is visiting the Abbotts at their Manchester showplace, known as "Glass Head."

PUBLISHER BARHAM'S BODY ON WAY HOME
London, June 14.—The body of Guy B. Barham, late publisher of the Los Angeles Herald who died in London, was put aboard the Olympic today at Southampton, bound for New York. Mrs. Barham accompanied the body. Mrs. Barham, who was in Europe as a member of the William Handcock House party, became ill and died suddenly following an operation. The Olympic is due in New York June 26.

CAMBRIDGE MAN DIES FROM AUTO INJURIES
Dorwin Heaton, thirty years old, of Hunting street, Cambridge, died at the Cambridge City Hospital from injuries received when he was struck by an automobile at the corner of Cambridge and Hunting streets. Fred H. Talamini of Saratoga street, East Boston, driver of the automobile, was arrested charged with operating an automobile in a manner to endanger life. He furnished bail in $1000.

PROPOS OF WEEK-END PARTY
The Mr. and Mrs. "Haggis" Foster (Frances Hor) spent the past one with Mr. and Mrs. Hendricks Hallett Whitman (Adelaide Chaffield Taylor) at the latter's estate in North Beverly.

It was just a year ago this month that Washington saw one of its most imposing social events, when Frances Hor, daughter of Mrs. Frederick H. Gillett, promised to "have, honor and obey" young "Haggis" Foster, popular Harvard '11 man. Boston's smart set was glad to welcome the versatile Mrs. "Haggis" back into their midst, and ever since their marriage the latter couple has taken a leading place in the younger married set.

It will be recalled that the former Frances Hor and her sister, Louise Hor, took prominent parts in "Why Not?" the musical show written by Mrs. Hendricks Whitman and given by society folk last March for the Infants' Hospital. In this show the clever sisters did their exquisite "Moon-beam Dance," which evoked no end of applause from the fashionable audience attending "Why Not?"

TODAY is Alison Jones' wedding day, which means that at 4 o'clock this afternoon Trinity Church will be well filled with fashionable folk to witness the marriage of Miss Jones to Charles A. Collidge, Jr.

Following the ceremony, at which the Rev. Endicott Peabody will officiate, there will be a small reception at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Daniel F. Jones, at No. 155 Beacon street.

5 B. U. GIRLS ANNOUNCE TROTH AT GLASS BANQUET
Miss Gladys Elliott was one of five Washington Boston University seniors to walk down the banquet room at the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences senior class banquet in the Hotel Vendôme, and announce her engagement to the young man who was chosen as the date of her wedding to Daniel MacLean, son of the late Mr. High School. Another senior who announced that she also would be wedded on the second day after graduation was Miss Ruth Tuttle, who will marry Morton Ennis. The commencement date is June 19. Other seniors who announced their engagements were Miss Daisy Rushford, who will become Mrs. David Hittin; Miss Florence Whittier of Dorchester, who announced her engagement to William Tiedel, son of a dean at the University of Missouri; and Miss Gladys Haggis, who will wed Ernest Morrison.

$5000 IN BONDS FOOT RACE OR DISCOVERY BY CHARWOMAN IN DOUBT

Who is Frances Knap?

Seven one-thousand dollar untold Liberty bonds in her name, believed to have been stolen, were recovered today by police following the arrest of Max Simonds, twenty-eight years old of New York, after he had succeeded in exchanging one of them for two $450 diamond rings and $100 in cash at the jewelry shop of Harris and Lawton in the Jewellers Building, No. 271 Washington Street.

A chase through Tremont Street into Boylston Street in which police commanded an automobile to stop on the charge of larceny. At that time only the Liberty bond was recovered, a special assistant captured his arrest.

He was taken to the LaGrange Street station, searched and booked on the charge of larceny. At that time only the Liberty bond was recovered, a special assistant captured his arrest.

But later a charwoman cleaning in the office of the station found a neat row of papers slipped in back of a desk near where Simonds had stood.

She tossed them into a waste paper basket, then decided to keep them. They proved to be six $1,000 bonds made out in the name of Frances Knap.

Curiously enough, the spelling of Frances figured in the case in no small way. Evidently Simonds neglected his schooling for previous to making the one bond he had attempted to pass others to firms in the Jewellers Building.

"He tried to pass one on me," said J. B. Gerstein, jeweler, who was instrumental in Simonds' arrest. "I asked him who Frances Knap was, and he said, 'You know her name.'"

Knowing that the male spelling of the name is Francis, I decided to notify police. He left hurriedly, however, when he saw me act suspiciously."

It was an hour later that Gerstein spotted Gerstein as the latter darted towards him. He hailed a taxicab. Gerstein appealed to a traffic officer, they gave chase in an automobile and Simonds was captured in a traffic jam on Boylston street.

"Birthplace of Feminism"
A NEW Babylon ruin, a city dating back 2,000 B. C., has been discovered at Koisa Nyck, Asia Minor. The cuneiform inscriptions seem to indicate that it was possibly the birthplace of feminism, for the city was ruled by men and women jointly.

How to Make
Pineapple Jam

Use Fresh Pineapple and Boil Only 1 Minute
(By Ann Frechter)

Pineapple Jam, or, as many people call it, "Jellied Pineapple," is an unusually delicious, healthful and inexpensive food. And it's so easy to make by the wonderful CEREAL Process which I now use in making all my jams and jellies because makes a product that looks better, tastes better and costs less. To make Pineapple Jam from fresh pineapple, I take two small or one large pineapple, peel and remove eyes and core, then chop very fine or through a food chopper. Measure

4 level cups of chopped fruit juice into a large saucepan; add leveled cups (1½ lbs.) sugar and well. Stir hard and constantly bring to a vigorous boil over fire. Bolt hard 1 minute with continual stirring. Take from fire.

If Boston is to develop commercially, it must adopt more universally the use of the radio.—W. M. Chubb, army radio expert.

Who Conspired Against This Colored Policeman?

The first colored man to become a member of Boston's new police force was tried by three police captains on the charge of having extorted money for protection from a bootlegger, found guilty and ordered dishonorably discharged from the force.

Appeal was taken to the commissioner. It was charged that the colored policeman was the victim of a plot to remove him from the force. Intimidation that marked bills were found upon him when he was arrested was discovered to be untrue. Witnesses who testified to overhearing the conversation between the policeman and the confessed bootlegger at which the money was paid remembered no such conversation. The policeman is found upon appeal to be not guilty, and restored to his position.

Not enough. Who were the conspirators? Why did they conspire? When will they be brought to trial for a crime more heinous, if true, than the one of which the colored policeman was accused?

Why One Rail Tracks in City's Streets?

A one-track mind, as Woodrow Wilson remarked, has certain uses. But of what use is a one-rail track? There are one-rail street car tracks at Harrison and Essex streets. There are one-rail tracks in other streets. They extend one and two inches above the pavement, ugly, dangerous disfigurements to Boston. Hardly an automobile attempts a turn that does not skid. There have been dangerous accidents enough because of this aliphed neglect. It seems silly to devote so much time to one-way streets and other suggested solutions for the traffic problems in the narrow thoroughfares of this city, before removing these menacing eyesores.

Boston's Water Supply Best in America

A visitor to these shores asks, "Why does modest Boston never boast of the municipal water supply? The drinking water is excellent, and as for bathing, the water is so soft and luxurious that it becomes an effort to get out of the tub."

Perhaps the softness of Boston water accounts for the peach bloom complexion of Boston women. One sees less rouge and powder in Boston than in any other large city in America.

Flies Useful Scavengers

But Your House Is Not The Place For Them

Copyright, 1932, Bird Company.

A. C. Weeks, a Brooklyn lawyer, says it is wrong to advise people to kill flies. Mr. Weeks writes: Flies are the most useful and capable scavengers in the world, and without them as agents in the rapid dissolution of pestiferous material we might be swept off the earth by plagues of many kinds. On the other hand, the fly community is best assured by the prompt removal of pestiferous material. Hence my new slogan: "Don't swat the fly, but don't give the fly a job."

The fly may be useful as a scavenger, as are the vulture, the buzzard and the hyena—where carrion exists. But there should be no food for scavengers in THE HOUSEHOLD, and therefore no scavengers should be needed or admitted.

The fly comes from the filth and grime outside of the house, bringing into the house flies with him. He does not destroy carrion, he BRINGS IT IN. Therefore he should be killed when he appears, and kept out by the metal screening.

The hyena is all right in the jungle, where animals die and must be devoured. But you wouldn't have them in your front yard, or you wouldn't have a vulture in place of your canary.

Undoubtedly certain flies are necessary as yet, for they are great scavengers. They lay their eggs in decaying meat, and the young worm flies devour the carrion that would spread pestilence.

Darwin says that there exists an African fly of which one couple and its descendants would destroy an entire lion, eating it to the bare bones, inside of twenty-four hours. Let it be grateful to the fly for what he does in the RIGHT place, and let's swat him mercilessly when he brings his trade into the house.

Promise with Care

Copyright, 1932, Bird Company.

Tradition says that the sovereign of an ancient kingdom offered to grant one wish to the inventor of a new game which would amuse his army, wearied in a long siege. A venerable man thereupon came forward with the game of chess, and it fitted the need.

Told to state his wish, the inventor suggested one grain of wheat for the first square on the chess board, two for the second square, four for the third square, and so on, doubling up to and including the sixty-fourth square.

The king, amazed at so queer a wish, ordered his chamberlain to give the old man a sackful of wheat and send him away. But the aged inventor insisted upon exact measurement.

If you want mental exercise, figure out how much wheat the inventor would have received had the ancient king been able to fulfill the king's promise.

As a convenience, let us weigh an ounce of wheat and count the grains, thus converting the figures into pounds, tons and modern carloads.

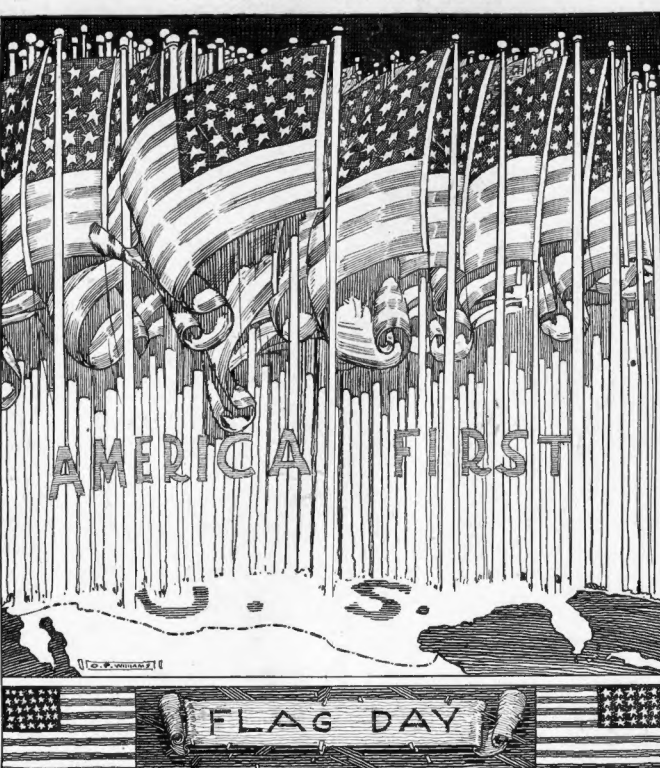

A schoolboy who once had the patience to reckon this sum found that the wheat would load a train of cars reaching from the earth to the moon and back thence half way around the earth.

Be careful what you promise.

The Voice of New England

Editor Boston American:

With reference to the past week's gossip about Harvard's intention to limit admissions to young men because of Jewish faith, I wish to state that the jealousy of Harvard will not be extinguished. It will only make matters worse. The millions of rich Jews will build a university of their own in every big city in America. In no time, I am sure, the Jewish colleges will develop a high standard in the academic world. Next we shall see that work young men of other faith will seek admission, and to show that the Jewish authorities are not narrow-minded, they will admit everybody as long as they meet the standard of admission. Catholics of Belfast

Editor Boston American: According to an Associated Press dispatch in your paper recently the hospital authorities of the Mater Hospital (Catholic), Belfast, Ireland, telegraphed to the International Red Cross headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland, protesting that the hospital had been fired on and asking for assistance. What a travesty of the boasted British civilization!

The English government has guns and artillery for use against Irish Republicans, but it is unwilling to protect the Catholics of Belfast from the brutal attacks of the fanatical forces of cowardly Orangemen.

It would be well for those here in the States that worry so much about the Armenians to give a little sympathy to the unfortunate Catholics of Belfast. T. M. LUCY, South Boston.

THE WAY OF FOLKS WITH THEIR FELLOWS

By Dr. Charles Fleischer

THIS article is to be mainly a letter—a human document, the more painful because it is true and typical.

It came from the business secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in a small Southern town to a New York manufacturer. One of a group of Jewish men who cover Southern territory.

I started looking for trouble, when away from home, as traveling salesman are fairly supposed to do, these friendly souls use spare time to play the part of the Good Samaritan to boys and girls already in trouble. As this one did.

The Letter

However, here is the self-planned letter from Christian secretary to Jewish salesman: "I have been going to be able to make a good report about Anna S., the little girl you left in our charge."

"I went to a large department store in town, and asked the manager to give her work. When he learned what the little girl was up against, he was anxious to help."

"The night she asked me if she might spend the night with a friend of her, a married woman, I knew if we were really going to help her to get straight, I must make her feel that we believed in her and trusted her."

Harvard Aristocracy

Editor Boston American:

I charge that President Lowell and Senator Lodge are leaders in an attempt to introduce into the United States a system of England: A division into the upper class, the middle class, and the laboring class.

And the laboring class, of course, they intend Harvard to be the center of the system. The final supreme judges and small group of the upper class in England and Cambridge are in England. These gentlemen already recognize a problem, frequent unions or politics never did more than threaten to dig up the re-

If This Is Your Birthday You Are LUCKY

YOU are generous and sympathetic if born today, and no matter how wrong you may be in the applications of your sympathy, you will stick to the cause or the person you have chosen to defend through thick and thin.

Today is generally favorable for business, the asking of favors and travel. Do not hesitate to undertake new responsibilities and to terminate business already under way.

The next year of your life will be a year of success and material advancement. A child born today will be interesting and ambitious, but impatient and sensitive.

Became Worried

"That afternoon, I waited an hour after store was closed, but Anna didn't come. I was naturally worried."

The next morning I was shocked when I heard that a girl by the name of Anna S. had taken poison the night before. Before I could get out to see her, the doctor had discharged her. She slipped away without my ever seeing her."

"I did my very best. It hurts me more than it can possibly hurt you to know it had such an ending."

"With my very best wishes to you in the great work you are doing."

How cruel we human beings are to one another! We are particularly cruel to women who stray. Women themselves are particularly cruel to their fellow-women, even when they are trying to do so straight.

"I wonder if the little girl who was taken by the name of Anna S. was ever a part of the universe?"

We mean so well that we might easily do much better.

"Ford," says President Lowell in the 49th chapter of his "Government of England," "has solved the problem among the colleges there by having one class make up a very large part of the university."

It seems to me that the present fare bill was dropped in haste that the session might be closed and the members enabled to seek cooler occupations. The public interest appears to be a secondary matter with them. ROBERTY. J. OGDEN.

In Hurry to Close

Editor Boston American:

Why do the legislators put off many of the most important bills until the last hours of the session when it is often hot and the members are weary and tired without due consideration? It seems to me that the present fare bill was dropped in haste that the session might be closed and the members enabled to seek cooler occupations. The public interest appears to be a secondary matter with them. ROBERTY. J. OGDEN.

SEEN AND HEARD

By Lambert and Daily

REPRESENTATIVE ALBERT R. MOND SMITH of Abilene has been in the lumber business fifty years, the last forty-eight years as a buyer of standing timber. He guesses he has bought 200,000,000 feet, worth $10,000,000 of his firm's money.

MISS BARBARA DUNCAN, who for fourteen years was in charge of the Music Department at the Public Library, caused a great deal of excitement when she announced to her fellow-workers that she had decided to resign, in order to accept the position of librarian of a Springfield library.

Some 225 boys and girls recently took the examination at the Public Library for temporary employment during the summer months. The results, showing clearly that younger Boston students, do not spend all the time of their vacation at play.

Because of his consistent attitude in favor of labor, REPRESENTATIVE ROBERT L. MANLEY of Fall River has received a written promise of steadfast support from the Federated States, City and Town Employees.

The merger of the Elevated and the West End, although put through quietly was one of the biggest business consolidations in recent years in Boston. The document of merger contained $7,800 in revenue stamps.

GENERAL COUNSEL M. WARE BARNUM says the Elevated is now carrying 20,000 passengers a day for a five-cent fare. About 1,000,000 people use the "L" every day.

JUSTICE LOUIS D. BRAND has been in Boston a few days at the beginning of his summer vacation. He made his usual visit to the Savings Bank Life Insurance office where he learned with pleasure that the system, which he favored, secures $3,000,000 of new business the past year, despite the business depression.
